

EVENING PROGRAM OPTIONS

Onondaga Camp is pleased to offer a wide variety of amazing evening programs for schools that attend Onondaga Camp. The activities listed below are tried and tested classics that schools have played here at Onondaga Camp, and are proven to be tons of fun and crowd favourites!

Kunken – The goal of this game is to simply kick over the other team’s boot. One team is on offence, and the other is on defense. This is a very active game, but one does not necessarily need to be overly athletic.

Trouble in The Henhouse – An Onondaga Camp classic, this variation on European Handball is where we split your school up into two teams with the goal for each team to score dodgeballs on the competition’s soccer goal. This is a great game for active schools who love running, teamwork, and handball.

Quidditch – A team game involving lots of running, Onondaga Camp Quidditch is an active game that is a blend of handball and soccer.

Wacky Talent Show – Students use their unique or odd abilities to make for a great talent show with the camp staff acting as judges. This is a great choice if you are looking for an activity that does not involve running.

Running Cranium – A game that requires little athletic skill and utilizes campers creative and fun side. Camp staff are dispersed around camp and student’s objectives are to find staff to collect clues. From there, students will act out, draw or hum to their team who will guess the answers. First team through the list wins! This is a fun game for all ages!

Photo Scavenger Hunt – Onondaga Camp has created a unique list of objectives for teams of students to complete. Students will document these completed objectives by taking photos. The photo scavenger hunt involves teamwork and lots of running around camp, while using creative problem solving.

Rocks – A running game that focuses on field domination, students are broken into two teams with the goal being to steal the other teams “rocks” without being touched. Think British Bulldog combined with the goal to steal all the rocks!

Campfire – Led by camp staff, all schools coming to camp will enjoy amazing songs, skits and other performances. This is a camp classic which is always a huge hit!
